

Get protected against influenza!

If you are pregnant, influenza can cause severe illness. It is therefore important that you get vaccinated in order to protect yourself against this year's influenza virus. The vaccination is free of charge. You can get vaccinated after the 12th week of pregnancy.

Book an appointment for vaccination

Make an appointment digitally at a healthcare centre or vaccination centre. You no longer need to log in to 1177.se to book an appointment, but should instead make an appointment via a regular website. You will find a list of links to all vaccination centres at 1177.se/sormland/influensavaccin.

If you are not able to make an appointment digitally, you can get help to make an appointment by calling 016-10 40 44. The telephone line is open from 8.00 to 16.30, Monday-Friday. We speak Swedish, English, Arabic, Finnish, Russian and Somali.
